The Glimmerglass Chapter of the American Wine Society is an educational organization whose members are committed to learning more about wine. Not a group of pompous wine snobs, but a diverse group of real people interested in tasting and evaluating wine, pairing wine and food and understanding the entire process of "vine to wine".

Note: As most of you know, tastings are generally 6 wines; if feasible, 2 whites and 4 reds (one red may actually be a rose); two bottles of each wine; cost is reimbursable (prefer receipts); average cost should be in the range of $15-$20 per bottle max (i.e., a $40 bottle may be offset by two $8.00 bottles); there should be an educational component to each tasting.
